

RANCH HOPE ... TRANSFORMING LIVES WITH LOVE

1964 + 2014

New Building: Campbell Home Construction

Neither snow nor winters bitter winds could stop the construction of our new Campbell Home! We are happy to share this good news with you in our special edition of the 50th Anniversary RH Factor!

Many of you, our loyal friends and supporters, have made contributions to the Capital Campaign and we want to give you an update on the project.

When we embarked on the Capital Campaign we had three goals which were planned in phases: (1) waste water treatment system; (2) pavement of roads (3) construction of new boys homes. Now that phases 1 and 2 are complete, we turn our attention to the cottage construction phase.

Ranch Hope will be replacing five of the current treatment homes on the Alloway

Rev. and Dave Bailey, Jr. inspect the interior construction of the Campbell Home in January.

The 50th Anniversary Founder's Banquet to be held at Centerton Country Club May 8th

A very special celebration is planned for Ranch Hope's 50th year of ministry! As one of the many events we have to give thanks and praise to the Lord this year, we will be holding our annual Founder's Banquet on May 8 at Centerton Country Club. Rev. Tony Campolo will be the keynote speaker at this year's black tie optional dinner.

Ranch Hope youth, alumni, staff, former staff, students and stakeholders and volunteers are invited to join us. If you have not received an invitation and would to attend, please contact Elaine Dunner at (856) 935-1555 x125. The cost is $40.00 per person.

A special musical guest is guaranteed to make the evening memorable.

This year's honorees will be:

- Corporate Partner: Sysco Food Services, Phila.
- Christian Partner: Seventh Day Baptist Church, Shiloh
- White Hat Award: Carl Schumacher

campus. EMD and Beta will be reconstructed on the same footprint.

As you will notice in the photos, our old "EMD" building was demolished in April of last year. Now we are anxiously awaiting the final touches on the interior of the building, then we will formally open the doors of the "Campbell House". This will be complete at the end of April.

Ranch Hope's 50th Anniversary Celebration Kicked Off With A Hymn Sing

In spite of the wintery weather outside, attendees to the Ranch Hope Hymn Sing event – held on February 9th at the Salem Community College Gym – left with a warm heart full of joy and praise.

"What a blessing it was to have close to 600 people in attendance – along with a wonderful line up of praise and worship bands, gospel performers, a dance ensemble, choirs from the local area, and a special performance by Jeff and Sue Duffield", says Rev. Dave Bailey, founder of Ranch Hope.

We would like to thank: Sharptown Methodist Church, Aldine Praise Choir and Audience of One, 7th Day Baptist of Shiloh, Fairton Presbyterian, Union Presbyterian Church of Carneys Point, Trinity Methodist of Pennsville, Haven Methodist of Quinton, Port Elizabeth Methodist and the Woodstown Presbyterian Choir and Praise Band; for showcasing their talents in support of the Ranch's 50th Anniversary celebration.

The group sang 50 hymn songs throughout the evening and Rev. Bailey took us on a trip down memory lane and the early days of Ranch Hope. Rev. Bailey shared with the group that he would like to hold a similar event in the future.

If your praise or worship choir would like to participate in a future hymn sing, please contact Rev. Bailey at 935-1555.

Message From The Chief Executive Officer Dave Bailey Jr.

This year Ranch Hope is celebrating its 50th Anniversary of serving children, youth and families in New Jersey. Where does the time go? When celebrating milestones such as this, whether it be an anniversary or a birthday, I find myself looking back through photographs and documents created in previous years. The ministry timeline reminds us of the dates and years when programs were created and buildings constructed or purchased. Of course these dates and corresponding photos are just the tip of the iceberg, as there are tremendous stories which include committed people, struggles, faith, determination and ultimately reliance upon the Lord.

I think of the saying "the more things change, the more things stay the same." It's ironic to me that after fifty years, the Ranch Hope ministry stands right back where it began. Leading up to 1964, my father and mother were relying on the people of God to support them in getting the first home, Cowan Cottage, constructed for the first twelve boys.

Today, our number one priority is renovating and constructing new homes for the youth we serve. Without these upgrades, Ranch Hope will no longer be permitted to minister to the children who come to live on our Alloway Campus. While we know you have continued to support us, we once again need the people of God to help us with these additional costs. Please make a pledge to the Building Our Future Today campaign today, with a gift that can be completed over a 2-3 year period of time.

Our first home, the Campbell House, is under construction and will be home to seven of our youth. Future construction, will be home to four youth in smaller settings. Contact us today to receive our full construction plan with pictures of the current construction and information on naming opportunities within the campaign.

I am excited about the various events being held over the next twelve months, celebrating our first 50 years of ministry. Let each be a time of praise to our Lord for the things He has done, and the future lives to be changed in His name.

Please plan to join the party! Attend an upcoming event and/or prayerfully join our campaign with a gift or pledge in honor of these 50 years.

In His Service,
Dave Bailey Jr.

SCVTS Foundation Honored Rev. Dave Bailey

Friends and family took to the microphone during the Salem County Vocational and Technical Schools Foundation's Leadership Recognition and Scholarship dinner to honor Ranch Hope founder, Rev. Dave Bailey Sr.

Bailey was honored with the foundations annual Leadership Award for his constant advocacy for education.

In 1964, Rev. Bailey and his wife, Eileen, founded Ranch Hope, in Alloway, as a home for troubled youth. From the beginning, Rev. knew that education would play a key part in helping the kids at the ranch prepare for the future.

"Some kids don't see the value in education. For them, its boring," he said. "We realized we needed to do something for their education."

With a little help, he opened a school shortly after he founded the ranch to make sure the kids weren't falling behind on their academics. But he could see they needed something more.

Rev. Bailey saw a great opportunity to partner with the Vocational and Technical High School to provide the kids at the ranch another avenue to succeed.

"The kids that didn't like the academics might like the vocational training," he said. "They can build something or they can be a part of electrical work... and they can see the results."

It's that partnership that makes this award so special for Rev. Bailey.

In 50 years as a prominent member of Salem County, Rev. has been given his share of awards, but he said the SCVTS Leadership Award would hold a special place in his heart.

"One of the things I'm excited about the award is that we both do similar work in helping kids," he said.

Current Ranch Hope CEO Dave Bailey Jr. served as master of ceremonies for the dinner that included speaker like 3rd District Assemblywoman Celeste Riley, Salem County Freeholder Director Julie Acton and SCVTS Superintendent Jack Swain.

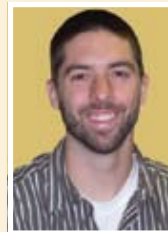

Freeholder Lee Ware, Mannington Mills Chairman of the Board Keith Campbell and lifelong family friend Tom Romansky shared some great memories about Bailey. All three also praised Rev. Bailey for his life's work.

"I taught at Woodstown High School for 38 years, and I saw first hand all the good Ranch Hope provides for our troubled youth," Ware said. "He didn't do it for the money, he did it because it was needed and it was the right thing to do.

"(He) is truly a Salem County Icon and has impacted more lives than anyone. I'll always consider (him) a dear friend."

Keith Campbell said it was rare for a religious leader to have as much effect on every aspect of a county like Rev. Bailey has in his lifetime of community involvement.

Not only did he help so many kids with the ranch, but he was involved with the chamber of commerce and even hosted a series of radio and TV shows.

Chaplain's Corner By Tim Hunt, Chaplain A Good Night's Rest

My wife and I were watching a movie a few nights ago when something interesting happened. As the ending credits rolled, we heard a loud crash that sounded like it came from the back of the house. I got up to go see what it was and found our back door swinging open. It was a little unsettling because it looked like someone had tried to break into our house. I got my flashlight and went outside (with my dog) and was relieved to find that there were no footprints in the snow in our backyard. Someone must have forgotten to shut the door tight and the wind was strong enough that night to have blown it open. I was relieved, but when I went to bed that evening I didn't sleep very well. Every time I heard a noise I woke up and was ready to protect my family. On that night, fear robbed me of some sleep. It may have been a legitimate fear, but it was a reminder to me of how hard it is to sleep when you don't have peace. Give me a minute and let's examine a scene in Peter's life that demonstrates an amazing peace that is available to us in Christ - a peace that lets you sleep well.

In Acts chapter 12 we read about how Herod persecuted the early church. He harassed and oppressed Christians, even killing James, the brother of John. Encouraged by the Jews' reaction, Herod arrested Peter and kept him in prison with the intent to bring him out and execute him publicly. Herod wanted to eliminate any chance of Peter escaping so he assigned multiple squads of soldiers to guard him. Peter was chained with two chains and kept right between two soldiers on the night before he was to be brought forth and killed.

How would you handle this situation? What would be going through your head on this night? Peter had a wife. What about her? Who would take care of her? He could have been dwelling on the death of James, one of his best friends. He had a very important role in the church at a very important time - what would become of the people he was responsible to look after? He could have been anxious over all these things in addition to the natural fear of death that he was about to personally experience.

Most of us would justify Peter in stressing out about any one of these things, but we find that he takes a very different course of action. In verse 6, we do not find Peter worrying, pleading with the guards, crying, or struggling. Instead of staying up that night and contemplating all the dominoes that were about to fall - he goes to sleep. Seriously? On the ground, bound with two chains, surrounded by hostile soldiers - sleeping. What were the guards thinking when they heard Peter start snoring? When they expected to see him rattled and undone, they actually found him calm and composed. What a testimony this must have been to those soldiers. What a picture of the peace that is available to us in Christ!

There is much to be said about how Peter found sleep in circumstances like that. I want to leave you with this thought - his peace came from strong confidence in God's promise and presence. Simply put, Peter genuinely believed that his life was in God's hands and that God was faithful to keep his word. The soldiers stood close by, but Christ was even closer that night. Maybe he fell asleep that night meditating on Psalm 127:2, "It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows; for so He gives His beloved sleep."

Do you have peace in this season of your life? Are you stressed out or burned out? Are you afraid and anxious? Have you ever experienced the safe, calm feeling of God's presence - even in difficult times? Let me encourage you to put your life in Christ's hands. Believe His word, and trust in His sacrifice. Please remember Peter's sleep. Most of all, please remember Peter's Savior. God bless.

Did You Know Ranch Hope Has A Bluebird Trail?

That's right! With the help of Allen Jackson, Vice President of the New Jersey Bluebird Society, Doug Pettit has set up and manages bluebird boxes. The eastern bluebird's population is declining due to habitat loss and competition with non-native bird species (the house sparrow and European starling), but we can help their population by properly managing nest boxes. In order to successfully get bluebirds to nest in the boxes, the boxes must have adequate ventilation, easily open, and proper location is a must! Bluebirds prefer rural, open areas, which is why Ranch Hope is a perfect place for bluebirds! So far we have produced 24 bluebirds. Allen Jackson even made two trips out to the Ranch to band our bluebirds with the help of some of the boys. Bird banding is important because it provides useful data such as migration patterns, behavior and social structures, life-span, survival rate, reproductive success and population growth. So next time you see Doug or are out at the horse barn, be sure to ask him about the bluebirds!

BLUEBIRD BOXES. Allen Jackson, Vice President of the New Jersey Bluebird Society, and Doug Pettit receive help from some of the boys of Ranch Hope for their Bluebird banding program. Ranch Hope is the perfect place for bluebirds since they prefer rural, open areas.

Kimon DeShields Recognized

Kimon DeShield, the Supervisor of Ranch Hope's Kincaid Treatment Units was formally recognized for his work with youth at the 4th Annual Black History Month Celebration.

Mr. DeShields was an honoree at a special event held on February 20 which recognized distinguished African Americans in Salem County for their contributions to the community, as well as their accomplishments in the field of public service. This event was hosted by the Salem County Prosecutor's Office and the Salem County Human Relations Advisory Board.

Mr. DeShields coaches, trains and guides staff in a manner that contributes to their ongoing improvement. He works with other members of the treatment team to provide care, supervision, instruction, behavior modification, recreation and other individual/group services to youth. He promotes the emotional, spiritual and social growth of the youth in our care at Ranch Hope. He serves as a positive, professional role model and assists in helping the boys develop communication and coping skills that will help them succeed as they transition to adulthood.

"All of us at Ranch Hope are very proud of Mr. DeShield's accomplishments. He has been such a positive role model for so many young people" says Director of Residential Treatment, Kim Geremia.

Camp Edge to Host a Special Camp For Youth Impacted by Superstorm Sandy

Ranch Hope is honored and pleased to have the opportunity to serve youth displaced and affected by Superstorm Sandy during this Summer. We will be offering a unique youth camp opportunity to learn life skills needed to recover from this natural disaster. The teens will learn valuable skills such as budgeting, housing acquisition, educational advancement, healthcare, job readiness, emergency preparedness, and public speaking. The goal of the camp is to provide skills necessary to succeed in adulthood and build resiliency for recovering from a future natural disaster.

The 14 day long camps will be held July 12, July 26th and August 9th for boys and girls aged 13-17. Any youth from a Superstorm Sandy affected county interested in attending one of these camps can email for information campedge@ranchhope.org or call (856) 935-1555.

2nd Annual Sasquatch Run Held

The 2nd annual Sasquatch Run was held at Camp Edge on March 22nd. This 5K run was held in the evening hours and had all the runners and walkers wearing headlamps and carrying flashlights while looking over their shoulder for things jumping out of the woods.

"We were impressed with the number of attending for only the second time we have held this event" says Interim Camp Director, Ryen Garrison.

All proceeds from the event will go toward Summer camp programs for inner city youth at Camp Edge this summer.

Two runners brave the night as they run past Sasquatch!

Graduate Gives Back Donates Bikes

We were so pleased to see Steve was in chapel on February 23. He graduated with his STAR Ranch Hand last year and donated these two bikes for our current residents. He spoke at chapel and shared words of encouragement for the staff and students. What a blessing to Steve and his mom.

Next we will demolish the Cowan Cottage. If you've been to the Ranch Hope campus you will recall this is the building directly across from the cafeteria.

And, the final phase of construction will be the demolition and reconstruction of Beta cottage.

For those of our readers that are unable to come to Ranch Hope for a tour, please go to our website, or subscribe to our newsletter so you can get an update on progress as it is happening.

On behalf of Ranch Hope, thank you for helping us to make this project a reality – through your financial support, volunteer efforts, and of course your prayers! If you have any questions about the project and how you may be able to help us further, please contact Dave Bailey, Jr.

Old EMD building was demolished earlier this year to make way for new construction.

Neither snow nor winters bitter winds stopped the construction of our new Campbell Home.
